News release

Hurricane Rita update 1700

23 September 2005

As the situation across the southern states of the US develops in the coming days, the Foreign and Commonwealth Office web site gives advice on the situation for tourists or for people who have friends and family in the area.

For the latest satellite imagery from the area and information on the movement of the storm check the Met Office tropical cyclone information page, which includes a link to the National Hurricane Center and major national weather services around the world.

Media toolkit about hurricanes

Latest tropical cyclone advisories

Travel advice from Foreign and Commonwealth Office

More about tropical cyclones

For further information:
Met Office Press Office +44 (0)1392 886655
E-mail: pressoffice@metoffice.gov.uk

Met Office Customer Centre 0870 900 0100
If you're outside the UK +44 (0)1392 885680

© Crown copyright